Election/Restrictions

This application has been assigned a new Examiner in light of the previous Examiner retiring from the Office. Based on the New Examiner's review of this case, a restriction is deemed necessary as follows:

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9, drawn to an order prioritizing system, classified in class 700, subclass 101.
- II. Claims 10-14, drawn to a method of accepting an order, classified in class 705, subclass 28.
- III. Claims 15-<sup>19</sup>, drawn to a storage medium, classified in class 369, subclass <sup>97</sup>180.
- IV. Claim 20, drawn to a computer program, classified in class 717, subclass 121.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions II and I, III, IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice.

The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process can be practiced by hand by using a human to make the determination step which is nothing more than a typical bookkeeping practice.

Inventions III and I, II, IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as a CD on which music is recorded and subsequently played. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions IV and I, II, III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as a code for performing a security or monitoring operations. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to PRIMARY EXAMINER Joseph A. Fischetti at telephone number (703) 305-0731.
